My Life, My Career

IEEE Women in Engineering International Leadership Summit (WIE ILS) supports career development of female engineers and researchers. WIE ILS Tokyo 2018, the first ILS in Japan, provides opportunities for global networking, mentorship and collaboration through highly interactive sessions designed to foster discussion and collaboration. WIE ILS Tokyo focuses on providing leading-edge professional development for women who are starting or at the midpoint of their careers and aims to help female engineers and researchers maximize their potential and shine bright as a beacon in their respective fields.

About IEEE WIE

IEEE is the world's largest technical professional organization advancing technology for the benefit of humanity. We publish technical journals, sponsor conferences, develop technology standards, and support the professional interests of more than 400,000 members. IEEE creates an environment where members collaborate on world - changing technologies – from computing and sustainable energy systems, to aerospace, communications, robotics and healthcare – to engineer a better tomorrow.

IEEE Women in Engineering (WIE) is one of the largest international professional organizations dedicated to promoting women engineers and scientists, and inspiring girls around the world to follow their academic interests in a career in engineering.

IEEE Japan Council Women in Engineering (IEEE JC WIE) was officially established on May 2, 2005. This is the first WIE affinity group in Japan.

Although there has been a moderate increase, there are still so few women in engineering and science fields in Japan. IEEE JC WIE supports career development of female engineers and researchers, and provides opportunities for global networking, mentorship and collaboration.

About IEEE WIE ILS

IEEE WIE International Leadership Summits were launched as a part of IEEE WIE's portfolio of global initiatives that focus on Inspiration, Leadership, Empowerment and Entrepreneurship. The summits will be held in only 11 selected regions in 2018.
